Art. 32

HEALTH

Fundamental right of people and communities

For the protection of the right to health, for a National Health Service and a health and social service - public, solidarity-based and universal - to which the necessary economic and organisational resources, and above all adequate staff, must be guaranteed: health care workers and health professionals who can truly guarantee the right to care for all, with adequate salaries, to counter the constant weakening of public health, fill the gaps in the care actually provided, starting with the territorial care and waiting lists, and enhance the value of care work. For this, we need an extraordinary multi-year recruitment plan that goes beyond stabilisation and turnover, and overcomes the precariousness of care and care workers; to ensure the health and dignity of non-self-sufficient persons; to protect health and safety at workplace, relaunching the role of the prevention, inspection and surveillance services. To have public health means guaranteeing care for all, throughout the country, and ending the privatisation of health and healthcare.
